PRICEWATERHOUSECOOPERS

Oct. 18, 2004

Familiar faces in Court 'House'

Court TV has greenlighted a second season of its investigative reality series "House of Clues" and has enlisted former "Apprentice" contestant Omarosa Manigault-Stallworth and infamous houseguest Kato Kaelin to participate. The cable network has ordered six episodes for the show's second season, which premieres at 11 p.m. Nov. 8. "House," hosted by personality profiler and clinical psychiatrist Reef Karim, features a pair of contestants acting as profilers by searching a house to gather clues and make guesses about who the homeowners are, what they do for a living, what their interests are, etc. If they guess correctly, they're awarded prizes chosen by the homeowners. (Kimberly Speight) ▸FULL STORY

MORE TELEVISION NEWS

▸World Series Game 1 ratings up 26% from '03 (10-25-04)
▸'Cold' cases: CBS signs on Rogers, Davis (10-25-04)
▸Mightiest Showtime puff for new series 'Huff' (10-25-04)
▸'Hill's' Perry lands 2 dramas at WB (10-25-04)
▸5/7 leads cast for ABC's '1/4life' (10-25-04)
▸Diversity in TV must come from all angles, panel says (10-25-04)
▸Priestley joins the 'Quintuplets' family (10-25-04)
▸Fox ball game puts hurt on NBC lineup Thurs. (10-23-04)
▸Ad violations cost Viacom, Disney (10-22-04)
▸Cojocaru tries on talker for Par (10-22-04)

CATHERINE ZETA-JONES, MICHAEL DOUGLAS, JACK NICHOLSON, JAMES CAAN, RAY ROMANO, BILL MAHER, PAM ANDERSON, and STEVE BUSCEMI.

The event, which was attended by over 15-hundred people, raised over 1.25-million dollars. A live auction brought in over 115-thousand bucks. It featured items such as the guitar McCartney used to write and perform Yesterday, which brought in a whopping 50-thousand. Emcee JAY LENO even put his underwear on the block, and it brought in two-thousand bucks. McCartney's wife HEATHER's Valentino dress went for ten-thousand and her Giantto broach fetched 13-thousand.

The McCartneys host this gala every year to raise awareness of the global landmine crisis affecting over one third of the world's nations.

(SEE AUDIO BELOW)

☐ Select for Download | ► Download Selections Now | ► Complete Story Index

25 TRACEY GOLD EXPECTED TO PLEAD "NOT GUILTY" TODAY

TRACEY GOLD is scheduled to make a court appearance in Ventura County, California, today for her arraignment on felony child endangerment and felony DUI charges. Prosecutors say the former Growing Pains star was behind the wheel of the family SUV when it tumbled down a freeway embankment on September 3rd. Her husband and their three kids were in the vehicle. Her husband and two of the children suffered minor injuries. The 35-year-old Gold is expected to enter a plea of not guilty.

Better keep an eye on Tracey. She might start drinking again when she sees the bad ratings her "Growing Pains" reunion movie got this past weekend.

ABC should've used Tracey's accident in the reunion movie. The movie could've ended with the entire Seaver clan going over a cliff in an SUV, never to be heard from again.

☐ Select for Download | ► Download Selections Now | ► Complete Story Index

26 MORE "APPRENTICE," OMAROSA ON THE WAY

Say what you will about DONALD TRUMP, but he's always one step ahead. Even though there are still 12 contestants left on the second season of The Apprentice, the real estate mogul-turned-reality TV star has confirmed that filming is already underway for season three. He calls the new crop of wannabes a great group.

Meanwhile, The Hollywood Reporter says that the notorious OMAROSA MANIGAULT-STALLWORTH has landed a gig on Court TV. She'll team up with another fame-seeker, KATO KAELIN, to do House of Clues. Hosted by personality profiler and clinical psychiatrist REEF KARIM, House of Clues features a pair of contestants taking on the role of profiler as they search a house to see if they can determine what kind of people live there. If they get it right, they'll win prizes chosen by the homeowners. The second season premieres on Monday, November 8th on Court TV.